Ski Soldiers Win Greatest Fight of the Year

By WEBB MILLER

HELSINKI, Jan. 3.—An official communique tonight said that Finnish troops had thrown back two powerful attacks by Russian infantry on the Karelian Isthmus, and that Finnish troops pursuing Russian forces had reached the western shores of Lake Kokkonajärvi, moving in the direction of Junturanta, which is on the frontier northeast of Suomensalmi.

Thousands Die As Finns Trap Reds

By WEBB MILLER

British United Press Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin.

HELSINKI, Jan. 3.—It was reported today that Russia's attempt to flank the Mannerheim line by sending troops southward along the shore of Lake Ladoga, has been frustrated by Finnish successes. Experts believed now that one of the chief dangers to the Finnish armies in the south has been removed—at least for the time being.

HELSINKI, Jan. 3.—Disclosures that Finnish planes dropped bombs to smash the ice at Lake Kianta and trap a whole Red Russian division were backed by reliable sources early today as the Finns mopped up in that sector and converted other Soviet attacks into Finnish victories. Observers said this was probably the greatest battle of the Russian-Finnish war to date.

The battle, fought Dec. 29 and 30 at the eastern end of Finland's narrow "waistline," was reported to have resulted in destruction of

All that remains of the trapped 175th Division—17,000 men at full strength—are stragglers who fled after the battle Dec. 29-30. About 2,000 of them are wandering through thick fir forests about five feet of snow in temperatures of 20 degrees below zero, Finns said.

A quarter of a mile from the head-quarters farmhouse where this is the case, the Finns have won the battle of Lake Kianta, leaving thousands of Soviet troops dead—the greatest single battle victory of the war in Finland.

Russian efforts to force their way across Finland's "waistline" and bisect the country have been halted here.

Congress Is Warned Of Defence Needs By President Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—President Roosevelt, addressing the United States Congress at the opening of a new session, declared today that the United States ultimately can become a leader for world peace but that "we must likewise be prepared to take care of ourselves if the world cannot attain peace."

Accordingly, he said he was asking this year in the light of continuing world uncertainty, for "army and navy increases which are based not on panic but on common sense."

The president proposed that sufficient additional taxes be levied to meet the cost of emergency spending for defense. He did not specify amounts or methods of taxation.

National unity, he also asserted, is in a very real and deep sense, the fundamental safeguard of all democracy.

For the most part, he touched but briefly on domestic policies.

Mr. Roosevelt declared as he had in previous addresses that he hoped the United States would not become involved in those wars.

Yet, he asserted, "there is a vast difference between keeping out of war and pretending that this war is none of our business."

With his discussion of international problems, the president linked a defense of the reciprocal trade agreement.

SABOTAGE TRAIL SMELTER SIBBLKED

NELSON, B. C., Jan. 3.—Sergeant C. W. A. Barvis of the British Columbia police said last night three enemy aliens, whose identity was not disclosed, are held by West Kootenay authorities following seizure of correspondence aimed at sabotage of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company plants at nearby Trail.

The correspondence was seized some time ago and the sabotage was set for Dec. 25. An inspector of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police from Vancouver and two company officials have been working with provincial police on the case, and their efforts resulted in the arrest of two men at Trail and one at Pateron, a few miles from Trail, near the international boundary.

Police believe gas tanks at Warfield, one of the more recent parts of the Consolidated, was the particular part sought. Warfield is a short distance up the mountain from Tadoussac where the main part of the smelter is situated and where fertilizer is produced.

Both the Consolidated Smelters and the West Kootenay Power and Light Company, whose plants are on Kootenay river 10 miles west of Trail, have been on the alert for saboteurs, surrounding their properties with guarded fences and huge searchlights.

Rear-Admiral Gives Graphic Description Of Graf Spee Battle

MONTEVIDEO, Jan. 3.—A graphic description of the running sea battle, in which three ships of the British South Atlantic squadron drove the German pocket battleship Graf Spee into Montevideo harbor December 13, was given newspapermen here today by Rear-Admiral Sir Henry Harwood.

Admiral Harwood arrived at Montevideo this morning aboard his flagship the Ajax, granted special permission by the Uruguayan government to put in for a 48-hour visit.

"I knew a German raider, probably a pocket battleship, was out and had been in the South Atlantic since the beginning of December," Admiral Harwood told reporters.

"I thought she might well attack British trade off the South American coast, and on concentrated three cruisers—the Ajax, the Achilles and the Exeter—off the mouth of the Plata River on Dec. 12. Very valuable British trade comes from this area, and I thought it might prove irresistible bait for her."

On the morning of Dec. 13 we were about 300 miles east of Punta Del Este. Smoke was sighted at 8:15 and turned out to come from a pocket battleship. She came forward and opened fire at 8:18, our turret firing at the Besser, the other at the Ajax and the Achilles.

"All our ships went on to full speed and attack at once, secondly."

NEW QUAKE LEVELS TEN MORE TOWNS

Turkey's Earthquake Damage Of Last Week Is Now Increased

ANKARA, Jan. 3.—New earthquake damage was reported today to have levelled 10 villages in the Yozgat area, adding to Turkey's quake damage of last week as the Yozgat earthquake broke up banks spreading terror in the region of southern Anatolia.

The Yozgat region, scene of wide spread suffering from previous tremors, was thrown into a panic by the latest shock. Hundreds of buildings collapsed. Nearly a thousand persons were made homeless.

PEOPLE WARNED

The death toll, however, was expected to be slight, since the people had sufficient warning to flee to open fields.

With scores of villages in western Anatolia hit submerged, flooding of the Taurus, populated Ephraim valley was expected to increase the estimated 40,000 dead in the combined disasters.

First reports from Briklik said it was impossible to enter the damaged area or loss of life from the flood waters. The Ephraim valley was rising, swamping houses, cattle and wild settlements southward toward Syria.

BITTER COLD

Meanwhile the crippled nation battled bitter winter temperatures and cold, driving the people to hundreds of thousands of refugees in the capital and other cities which never the major part of Anatolia Turkey.

Multiple hospitals reached the Yozgat area, some of the greatest suffering from last week's quakes.

THOUSANDS DIE AS FINNS BOMB FROZEN LAKE

most of the Russian 18th division—less than 15,000 strong.

Front-line reports of the battle began to trickle into capital, Moscow, although the victory itself was announced in a New Year's Eve communique.

RING AROUND LAKE

Today's reports told how the Finns first surrounded seven Soviet divisions in the ice of the lake several days ago. Killed more than 1,000 and drew a light ring around the lake.

The ring was opened, however, when Soviet troops reinforced the Finns reach the lake. Then the Finns surrounded the Red again, and set their machine-guns on the shore.

In the dead of the night the Finns struck and won. The Russians tried to retreat they found the water too deep.

For two days Russian tanks circled the lake, attempting to pierce the ring, but were repulsed by their own equipment—heavy guns, tanks and field artillery.

BOMBING PLANE

Finally the Finns sent for the bombing planes. They blasted great holes in the ice and sent the Russians and men tumbling into the water.

Under panic, the survivors sought to fight their way off the ice. They refused to surrender.

The Finns, however, were reported to have taken a great many prisoners and large stores of equipment, including 77 guns, 10 tanks, two armored cars, four anti-aircraft guns, hundreds of trucks and horses, a great many machine-guns and much arms and munitions.

Today the Finns were following up their victory while the Soviets were believed to be preparing a tremendous push on the Karelian Isthmus, to the south, to crack a four-week stalemate.

Seven red divisions (about 100,000 men) were reported concentrated on the Isthmus.

HELSINKI, Jan. 3.—Irked by setbacks, Soviet Russia was reported today to be massing seven army divisions against the Finnish line in the Karelian Isthmus.

Federative System Post War Europe Is Sought By Allies

By JOHN LLOYD
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Jan. 3.—An organized effort to develop discussion of a federation of European states took form yesterday, with French circles expressing the hope that eventually it will embrace the world.

The idea of the British-French Allies was described by authorized spokesmen as the creation of a "federation of free states" as opposed to what they termed the German Reich's ambition to absorb other countries into its empire.

It was stated that some neutral countries may seek to join a co-operative system similar to the League of Nations, and that the British-French Allies were prepared to accept such a system.

At that point Mr. Roosevelt made a transition to the defence portions of his speech.

Even as through these trade agreements we prepare to co-operate in the defence of the world, we must likewise be prepared to take care of ourselves if the world should turn against us.

Convoy Systems Found Safest Way To Guard Shipping

OTTAWA, Jan. 3.—Patrol of focal areas, the convoy system and mine-sweeping are the three main protective devices adopted to assure safe transport of the ocean traffic of the British Empire, a spokesman for the defence department said last night in the eleventh of a series of talks over the national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

While the ocean is a tremendous area in normal times, shipping lanes, well-established routes, just as it is easy for raiders, whether submarine or surface vessels, to find it is also easy to find them by constantly varying the routes of merchant ships.

At the range of vision from a submarine, the range is only five miles and the range from a height of 100 feet above the water is only 10 miles. Great divers are not necessary, the spokesman said.

No matter what diversions are made, however, there are certain areas where shipping lanes must be maintained. The entrance to the English Channel and a point off the coast of Norway are two of these.

These are called focal areas. To guard against submarines, the convoys are maintained, sailed to the north of the area which may be expected to be attacked.

Diversive routing and patrol of focal areas, while effective against submarines, are only so effective against submarines. Consequently, while it was used, the convoys were not a very effective system.

The latter had until a number of years ago been used until a number of years ago. The convoys were not a very effective system.

U.S. CONGRESS IS WARNED OF DEFENCE NEEDS

treaty program—a program which has given every indication of coming out of the storm center of the session.

The Trade Agreement Act, he said, "should be extended as far as possible, as it is an indispensable part of the foundation of any stable and durable peace."

"The first priority of the United States is to secure the peace of the world, and the second is to secure the peace of the United States."

"But that cooperation with the rest of the world does not violate the principle in any way."

At that point Mr. Roosevelt made a transition to the defence portions of his speech.

AIRMAN TELLS OF DOG FIGHT WITH ENEMY

Three British Bombers Attacked By 12 Messerschmitts Off Heligoland

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The pilot of one of the Royal Air Force planes which staged Tuesday afternoon's raid on Heligoland told a dramatic story of the air battle over the North Sea in which one German plane was destroyed and two others forced down.

The three bombers were on patrol search for German warships when the battle took place. The pilot said the British ships were flying in a V-formation about 12 miles from Heligoland at an altitude of 6,000 feet when they were suddenly attacked by a squadron of 12 Messerschmitt long-range fighters.

TRUCKER BULLETS

"We were going south," the pilot said, "when suddenly the look-out man shouted 'fighters'. Almost before he had given the warning I saw a stream of white tracer bullets flashing past on the port side. We did not stop them because they came straight at us out of the sun. The first burst from the enemy penetrated our fuselage but did no material damage. We gave as good as we got."

MISS BY INCHES

"We found ourselves fighting against about 12 Messerschmitts. More bullets entered our cockpit and some of them missed us by a few inches. One of the look-out men made three dual attacks on us. Our gunner succeeded in bringing one of them down, while the other two claimed another. The first one was torn to fall out of control. It caught fire, after half an hour of crashing into the sea in flames. The second definitely hit the engine and spiraled dive toward the sea. It is impossible that the pilot could have been so close to the enemy after a second Messerschmitt fell out of control."

Value Of Anglu Gun Turret Demonstrated

LONDON, Jan. 3.—Turret announcement was made last night in the air battle over Heligoland. The British Wellington bombers engaged 12 of Germany's fastest fighters, the long-range twin-engine Messerschmitts.

WANT TO JOIN ARMY

It hardly likely that a New York West Indian battalion will be the first to join the army in the war, but the colony supports the British war effort. Already many West Indians have sought to enlist for war service, preferably in the Canadian Air Service Force, and the British consular daily handles many inquiries.

Her Individuality Mayor Hods-Up Gun-Totin' Executive Foiled By Thug

Holdup Held Up

MIDDLEFIELD, Ohio, Jan. 3.—Dr. George W. McElroy, a dentist who doubles as mayor, had his troubles trying to put teeth into the law last night.

A tip came that a man had failed to pay for a tankful of gasoline at a filling station. The mayor, who was in his car, jumped in his automobile and was away. His 16-year-old daughter, Edna, went along.

Outside a restaurant, they found the man's car. As they entered, the mayor's gun was waving a shadow. The gunman backed out the door, with $83. The mayor pulled one of his guns and fired a shot.

The man fired. The mayor and his daughter followed, for free and one-half miles.

Near Burton, Ohio, the hold-up man's car skidded into a ditch. Out jumped the mayor and cut some hold-up man with a gun in his hand. He "covered" His Honor, took the mayor's car and left him and his daughter by the roadside.

Anglo-French Friendship Theme of Picture Showing In Two Gotham Theatres

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Sophisticated New Yorkers who are often critical of foreign language pictures are "too slow" in cherishing the film story of King Edward VII in a vivid French version now having its first run simultaneously in two "mimime" picture houses.

Never before in Manhattan film has a foreign language film opened in two houses at once. Managers usually think that a foreign picture will not draw a large audience unless it has a strong French film running in one house for reasonable length.

EXPLAINS ALLIES' TIES

But "Entente Cordiale," which tells the story of Anglo-French friendship from 1914 to the present, is a clear, simple picture in clear, simple language. It is a picture of how Rhoda Shaffer, New York University student, proved she is an ally. Plot: Her professor of ethics and logic deplores the date of quotas and other things, wearing what other women wear. Plot thickens: To prove him wrong, Rhoda attended class next day dressed in a black and white bathing suit. Exit him, the best 100 per cent conformist manner.

Big West Indian Colony In Harlem Retains High Regard For British Crown

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—They don't stop for tea at four o'clock and most of them wouldn't know what to call a muffin if they saw one, but they do play cricket up there in Harlem and have high regard for British traditions and the crown.

About half of them, admitted into the United States by the Canadian Alien Service Force, are immigrants, and the rest are the long-range twin-engine Messerschmitts.

Anglo-French Friendship Theme of Picture Showing In Two Gotham Theatres

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Sophisticated New Yorkers who are often critical of foreign language pictures are "too slow" in cherishing the film story of King Edward VII in a vivid French version now having its first run simultaneously in two "mimime" picture houses.

EXPLAINS ALLIES' TIES

But "Entente Cordiale," which tells the story of Anglo-French friendship from 1914 to the present, is a clear, simple picture in clear, simple language. It is a picture of how Rhoda Shaffer, New York University student, proved she is an ally. Plot: Her professor of ethics and logic deplores the date of quotas and other things, wearing what other women wear. Plot thickens: To prove him wrong, Rhoda attended class next day dressed in a black and white bathing suit. Exit him, the best 100 per cent conformist manner.

Big West Indian Colony In Harlem Retains High Regard For British Crown

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—They don't stop for tea at four o'clock and most of them wouldn't know what to call a muffin if they saw one, but they do play cricket up there in Harlem and have high regard for British traditions and the crown.

WANT TO JOIN ARMY

It hardly likely that a New York West Indian battalion will be the first to join the army in the war, but the colony supports the British war effort. Already many West Indians have sought to enlist for war service, preferably in the Canadian Air Service Force, and the British consular daily handles many inquiries.

CALIFORNIANS START FIRST RELIEF CO-OP

New Production-For-Use Program Starts With State Grocery

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—California opened its first co-operative consumers' outlet yesterday under the recently inaugurated production-for-use program of the state relief administration.

Of the 500 families on state relief rolls eligible to trade at the state-operated grocery store, more than 100 had bid in a supply of provisions within a few hours after it opened.

DIVIDE PROFITS

They paid prices charged at privately operated stores and poultry, meats, dairy products, baked goods, fruit and vegetables, honey, olives, macaroni, eggs, jams and jellies, are grown or processed by producers' co-operatives sponsored by the state.

Employees of the producers' co-operatives, like those of the consumers' outlet, are relief recipients who received for their work the going wages of relief work projects.

Only the manager of the store, Oskar Keller, of San Bernardino, is a salaried employee of the state relief administration.

Arrival Of Indian Troops In France Iriks Nazi Press

BERLIN, Jan. 3.—Newspapers commented bitterly on the announced arrival of British Indian troops in France.

The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung described the use of Indians as an act of "imperialist violence" to which Britain was forced to resort in an effort to preserve its own "racial man power."

"The population of the United Kingdom is already extremely small for ruling and administering the gigantic empire," said the paper.

"We regret the use of Indian troops against us and know that they are really not our enemies."

ENGLISH GIRL NAZI SUFFERS BULLET WOUND

Lord Redesdale States He Is Not Ashamed Of Daughter

British United Press Executive Cable to the Edmonton Bulletin

FOLKSTONE, Eng., Jan. 3.—The second Baron Redesdale announced today that his daughter, the Honorable Emily Valkyrie Freeman-Mitford, will arrive by channel steamer in England this afternoon.

She was reported in circumstances still mysterious, to have attempted to commit suicide at Munich shortly after Britain recognized a state of war against Germany.

The blonde 25-year-old British noblewoman had long been sympathetic to Nazism and particularly to Hitler.

It was known that Hitler had sent her home after many weeks under treatment by Nazi specialists in a Munich hospital. It was reported the Emperor's own special train was made available for her.

At Folkstone, it was reported customs men had been given special instructions to speed up formalities, and military armaments were pooled at the entrance to the harbor for the first time since the war started.

They had instructions to permit to unauthorized persons—such as newspapermen—to approach the dock of the railroad station.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The Evening News said today that surgeons would operate to remove a revolver bullet from the neck of Emily Freeman-Mitford, English friend of Adolf Hitler.

Miss Freeman-Mitford was expected to reach Folkstone late today, and pressurizations were taken to assure that no one except her family speaks to her when she arrives.

SAILOR GIVEN UP FOR DEAD: HELD PRISONER

LONDON, Jan. 3.—For more than a month, Mrs. Edgar Oliver believed her seaman-husband dead, a victim of the war. So she was dressed in mourning when her little daughter came running and shouted, "Here's a letter from Daddy."

Oliver, one of the crew of the British auxiliary cruiser Rawalpindi, sunk by the German pocket battleship Deutschland in a battle off the coast of Iceland Nov. 26, had been given up for lost.

But today, his wife and daughter learned from his letter he had been saved and interned in a German prison camp, from which he wrote.

UNEMPLOYED IN DOMINION ON DECREASE

Improvement In Western Agriculture Causes Big Change

OTTAWA, Jan. 3.—Canada enters upon the first winter of the war "with what will prove at best perhaps 100,000 less persons unemployed than public aid last night, the improvement being almost entirely due to agricultural recovery in the west and with some quite discernible reductions in certain areas due to war activities," the Canadian welfare council stated last night.

The council's year-end review of unemployment and facilities worn against "the superficial tendency to assume that with the prosecution of a war with growth of dependency and social maladjustment of recent years, will be automatically floored off."

PROMOTIONS ARE MADE IN CANADA NAVY

Appointments Necessary to Deal With Growing Size Of Force

OTTAWA, Jan. 3.—Hon. Norman Rogers, defence minister, last night announced several promotions in the Royal Canadian Navy, necessitated, he said, in order to deal with the rapid expansion in services and personnel of the force.

Commander E. S. Brand of the Royal Navy, assigned to Ottawa as a naval attaché, was promoted to the rank of captain, he has been a captain.

Lieut.-Commander H. J. Niles of the Saginaw has been elevated to the rank of commander as well as Lieut.-Commander W. B. L. Holmes of the Resolute, who will be in charge of the naval instruction classes to open at the Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont., Lieut.-Commander L. J. M. Gauvreau, intelligence officer at Halifax, Commander A. C. Pressey on special duty on the coast.

Lieut.-Commander W. G. Sheppard of Toronto and Lieut.-Commander H. G. Nares, formerly of Winnipeg and now in Ottawa, were appointed commanders. They were both members of the Royal Canadian Navy Volunteer Reserve.

Power Takes Defence Post For 3 Weeks

OTTAWA, Jan. 3.—Hon. Norman Rogers, minister of national defence, has left the capital for a three-week vacation in the south, and Hon. C. G. Power, postmaster-general, took temporary charge of the important defence portfolio last night for duration of his colleague's holiday.

Former minister of labor, Mr. Rogers took over the defence department early in September from Hon. Ian Mackenzie, who was transferred to the portfolio of pensions and national health.

Mr. Rogers was one of the busiest ministers in the capital since he took over the post, as the onerous task of organizing the military defence of the country and the farming and dispatch of the first division of the Canadian Active Service Force for overseas service fell largely upon him.

Finns Menace Russians' Vital Supply Lines

By NORMAN MITCHELL, British United Press Executive Cable to the Edmonton Bulletin

HELSINKI, Jan. 3.—Dispatches today said Finnish army patrols have penetrated the Russian line at many points along the thousand-mile front between Lake Ladoga and the Arctic sea, and have already brought Russian communication lines to the point where army units cannot be moved effectively from point to point along the front.

They were also reports that the Finns had reached the Russian Murmansk railroad—one of the Soviet's vital supply lines—at some point not yet identified.
